

Punch

A BOUTIQUE INVESTMENT ADVISORY

Candice Larson

Executive Assistant

Candice Larson joined Punch & Associates with over twenty years of administrative experience. She spent seven years within UnitedHealth group in administrative supervisory roles and as a project manager to the head of marketing at OptumHealth. She then served as the executive assistant to the Chairman & CEO of The Valspar Corporation. Before joining Punch, Candice started Mighty Girl Friday, a virtual executive assistant services LLC.

Candice attended California State Northridge and the University of Arizona where she studied archaeology and design.

Candice loves international travel and has seen much of the globe. She is a voracious reader and enjoys word games, mountain biking, gardening, yoga, music, and is passionate about animals. She recently served on the board of directors for Minneapolis Animal Care and Control. Candice lives in Independence with her husband Steve and two rescue dogs.

Years at Punch:

2

Years in Administration:

21

Personal Interests:

- International Travel
- Reading
- Gardening